

Virus Inhibitor Field

Purpose: To restrict virus replication and thus reduce the possible damage within a physical body.

Re-activate the Virus Inhibitor Field every 36 hours for maximum benefit. This is an energy field gifted to us by Source to reduce the harmful effects viruses can wreak within physical bodies.

Less replication gives our own immune system a better opportunity to fight the virus and either eliminate it or keep its effects minimized.

The Virus Inhibitor Field is especially useful for health care workers who are routinely exposed to viruses through various forms of accident and airborne contact.

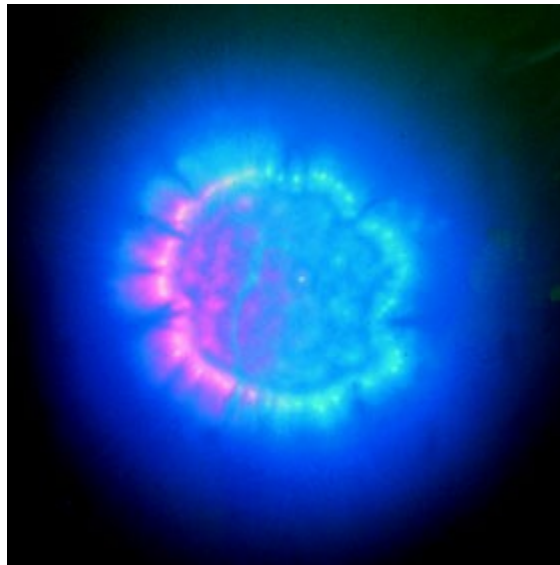

There are many instances where people come into contact with viruses that lodge in their bloodstream. Often, they are not aware of this until their body's defenses are compromised by stress, bacterial infection, other illness or environmental influences.

Then the virus, which has been there, yet unable to make enough copies of itself to cause a person illness or damage the skin tissues or other membranes within the body, would makes prolific evidence.

It is important to assist your body's immune system to easily reduce the virus cell population by activating the Virus Inhibitor Field every 36 hours. This field makes your body and energy fields a less hospitable place for viruses to live.

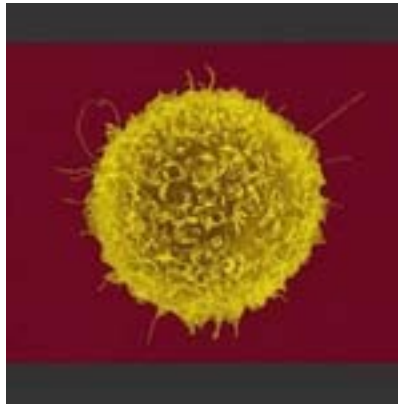

Each physical body is such a galaxy of variables that there is no way to tell how effective the Virus Inhibitor Field will be for a particular person.

We do know that it will do something beneficial for everyone who seeks health.

Viruses contain only a limited genetic blueprint and they don't have the necessary building tools to reproduce themselves. They have to invade other cells and hijack their cellular machinery to reproduce. Viruses invade by attaching to a cell and injecting their genes or by being swallowed up by the cell.

B and T cells exist within the blood and lymphatic system of the body in what is called a resting state--that is, they are not doing anything detectable. However, when a B or T cell encounters an invader that can bind to its receptor, the cell divides many times and so creates lots of daughter cells. Each bears receptors that are the same as, or very similar to, those of the parent. Hence, contact with the invader creates from a few B and T cells many more that can react with the invader.

During this division the T and B cells also create so-called effector and memory cells. Effector cells act to get rid of the invader. For example, effector B cells, called plasma cells, secrete antibody molecules that bind to invading bacteria and viruses and help eliminate them from the body. One type of effector T cell, called a cytotoxic T cell, kills virus infected cells and thus prevents its spread. The memory cells survive to protect their host against further infections by the same invader. From:

Fabien Maman, one of the world's leading experts on vibrational sound healing, conducted a biology experiment in the early 80s at the University of Jussieu in Paris, showing the impacts of acoustic sound on human cells and their energy fields. He found that through a series of acoustic sounds, healthy cells would become energized and empowered. Using a Kirlian camera, Fabien Maman was able to document what happens to the energy fields of healthy human cells when exposed to a chromatic scale of sound frequencies. He discovered that the color and shape of each cell and its subtle energy field (Aura) changed according to the pitch and timbre of each musical note.

Healthy cells responding to chromatic scale played on an xylophone.

Accept your attunement in the manner directed by your teacher. Intend for the field to be active.

Working with the energy field: You may activate the Virus Inhibitor Field for other people. It will only be as effective as their desire to be well combined with what is allowed by their Higher Self. You may notice, however, that continual reactivations may not be as effective for people who are old enough to understand this type of work if taught. This is because there is a necessity for people to be responsible for their own health. This field is not programmable to reactivate by itself. Conscious choice and will are required.

Passing attunements to others: Anyone who is a Reiki or Seichim Master and accustomed to passing attunements is qualified, after this one attunement, to pass attunement for the Virus Inhibitor Field. You may use any attunement method of your choice.

Disclaimer: All information in this document and the Virus Inhibitor Field are for self edification purposes only and not meant to treat any disease or illness. If you are not well, please seek the attention of a properly licensed professional immediately.

Do not sell this manual. The Virus Inhibitor Field is a glad, free gift from Spirit and meant to remain so. You may pass this manual onward to your students fully intact with no changes made.
